Creating Value.

EcoLogix Group enables clients to affect dramatic increases in economic, environmental, and social value through enhancements to the environmental quality, public health, and overall sustainability of the ecosystems within which they operate.

Successful Economic Solutions

Leadership

We are a highly successful professional services company providing integrated environmental services to our clients. We serve private, public and government entities operating in such sectors as maritime and port operations, energy production, manufacturing, military operations, coastal zone development, brownfields redevelopment, fisheries and other natural resource management, and environmental education.

Our team of highly skilled experts possess extensive industry, regulatory and public interest experience. The innovative and cost effective solutions we provide our customers create sustainable economic, environmental and social value and direct return on investment.

Sustainable Environmental Outcomes

Our superior value proposition is founded on providing leadership and highest quality services delivered at reasonable rates to relationship-based customers. We deliver results now and into the future.

Innovation

Our comprehensive environmental management programs and efforts center on in-depth understanding, careful and strategic planning, and efficient and effective implementation. Our solutions reduce overall costs, improve customer brand awareness, and enhance investment performance.

Competitive Advantages

To be sustainable, environmental management efforts must equate to direct competitive advantage. Our innovative programs ensure that outcome from the outset.

EcoLogix Group partners with our clients to deliver the services that are the keys to creating value and sustaining success including:

- Sustainability Analyses
- Strategy & Program Development
- Engineering & Design
- Incentives & Finance Planning
- Government Facilitation
